Drop In Help Lab

The Help Lab provides an opportunity for more help from library staff to answer your questions. Get help with E-Books using Kindles, NOOKs, or iPads as well as a computer or listening device. We typically cover email, uploading photos, setting up personal budgets, word processing and file management questions. Any question is welcome and this is a good time to get longer one-on-one help from library experts.

Library eBooks: Northern California Digital Library

Find out how to borrow thousands of books for reading or listening from the Library's website for free. Yes! Many books are available for your Kindle, iPad, iPhone, iPod, Nook, Android, MP3 player or your computer.

Library eBooks: Axis 360, Enki and OneClickdigital

Learn about our new eBook resources. Axis 360 offers many popular titles, while Enki is a new eBook platform created by libraries in California with great content purchased directly from Indie publishers. OneClickdigital is an audiobook resource created by Recorded Books. Thousands of books are available for your Android, iOS device or computer!

Morningstar Fund Investment Research Center

Need more information on mutual funds and stocks? Join Librarians Mary Boyle and Mark Graham and learn to find the answers using the Library's free Morningstar Fund Investment Research Center. Find the newsletter and detailed fund reports you need to make sound financial decisions. Bring your library card or sign up for one that day before class.

Searching American Ancestors.org

Come and explore American Ancestors from the New England Historic & Genealogical Society. Discover vital records, articles from American Ancestors Journal, The Register, full text of books, newsletters and the Daily Genealogist blog. This is an excellent resource available for searching for free in the Library. Students will have time for hands-on work with assistance.
